October 2016

Hi Dance Families-

Well, September just flew by, and we've been busy at the studio. Let me update you on what we've been working on.

The preschool and kindergarten classes are learning about their dancer treasure chest, working on practicing in their self and shared space, and making loud and quiet sounds with their feet. I'm excited to start their first jazz unit in October!

The elementary thru high school dancers have been learning a fun company warmup. They've been working on technique at the barre and at center, and practicing elements across the floor. Chaines, kicks, leaps, preps, and pirouettes are being learned for some and reviewed for others. A lot of learning and improvement happening!

In our new studio, we are so fortunate to have the drive thru as well as plenty of parking. In the interest of safety, please bring your dancer to the door and come up to the studio to get them. None of the younger dancers should be leaving the studio unattended. Be sure to communicate this expectation with your student!

I look forward to a new month of dancing!
